WHAT HAVE THE OLYMPICS DONE FOR US?

THIS year will see London host the biggest show on Earth for a record third time, having previously done so in 1908 and 1948.

The 2012 Games have seen:
• Multi-billion-pound transformation of east London. Newham alone has seen more than £15billion investment.

- 62,000 new jobs being created from the Games and its legacy.
- 30 new bridges built crossing roads, rail lines and rivers to link the Olympic site.
- Billions spent on thousands of top-class sporting facilities that will remain for future generations.
- The oncoming boost for the economy as the world's eye falls of this corner of the globe.

And there is so much more. So why the moans? The groans about ticket sales? The lack of input from local business? What has – or hasn't – the Olympic Games done for us?

Turn to pages 4 and 5 for more.

Street art to be unveiled

A PIECE of 3D street art depicting a giant chasm, complete with rickety rope bridge, will be revealed in Barking this month.

Barking and Dagenham College, in Dagenham Road, Rush Green, is using this innovative advertising technique to encourage local teens to attend their open day.

From Thursday, May 17, to Saturday, May 19, Vicarage Field shoppers can stand on the 'bridge', looking like they are about to fall hundreds of feet into the realistic 3-dimensional chasm.

Barking and Dagenham College staff will be on hand to tell locals about the upcoming open day and also to take photos of them on the 'bridge'.

Their photos will then be uploaded on the College's flickr page to be downloaded and forwarded on to friends and family.

The open day will be on Thursday, May 24, at Barking Learning Centre, 2 Town Square, Barking, from 3.30pm to 7pm.

Tributes paid to former councillor

THE Chief Executive, staff and members of Barking and Dagenham Council have paid tribute to a former councillor, Mayor and Freeman.

Leonard Adolphus Collins (pictured right) sadly passed away on Sunday, aged 82.

Stella Manzie, chief executive, who led the tributes, said: "My colleagues and councillors are saddened at the loss of a former councillor and Freeman of the borough who will be sadly missed. Our condolences are with his wife and family at such a difficult time."

"His legacy will be felt in his selfless service to the community in general and in particular as a school governor, and the role he played when as Mayor in 1979."

"He signed the twinning agreement with Witten in Germany. For all of this and more he received the Freedom of the Borough in 1979. He will be fondly remembered."

Leonard Collins was born in Hackney Wick in 1929 and moved to Dagenham as a young child. He was a family man, married to Hazel and they have one daughter, one granddaughter and one great-granddaughter.

Leonard was a building surveyor and was employed by the LCC/GLC and London Boroughs prior to his retirement in 1988. He was also liaison officer to John Parker MBE, Father of the House of Commons and also to Bryan Gould MP for the Dagenham constituency.

Leonard was first elected as councillor in 1967 and served as a Labour councillor for 39 years until the local election in May 2006.

He served on Valence, Eastbrook and Triptons wards. In addition to various council committees and school governing bodies he served on the Dagenham old people's welfare council.

Special report: What has the Olympics done for us?

Graphic design firms snubbed

UK GRAPHIC design firms have been left fuming after the contract to create the Olympic tickets was won by a firm in America.

A spokesman for London's Federation of Small Businesses said: "This has been one of the biggest areas of complaint among small companies in the capital so far."

Small firms overlooked

A BUSINESSMAN from Ilford has refuted claims by Olympic organisers that a high percentage of micro firms who applied for Olympic contracts had been successful.

Wilson Chowdhry, who owns AA Security in Green Lane, said he had applied for several contracts over the last 12 months.

He said: "We were shortlisted for one of the contracts but were not successful."

"We feel we have been stitched up and the work has been directed towards bigger companies, despite earlier promises from the Mayor that smaller firms would be given a fair chance."

Mr Chowdhry said his firm had met all the criteria demanded by the Olympic committee.

He added: "The company has more than three years of accounts, we have been running for 18 years. Our turnover is more than £1million a year.

"I had another tender alert yesterday and will be applying to do security work during the actual Olympics, there is four weeks left to complete the tender."

Opportunities few and far between

GRAEME Loveland, director of the Thurrock Local Enterprise Agency, said local businesses were not really benefiting from the Olympics.

He said: "I don't think the Games have provided many opportunities for businesses in Thurrock. Many of the contracts have gone to big multi-nationals and the work has not filtered down to smaller businesses."

But Mr Loveland said the borough was at a disadvantage because of the high percentage of companies that employ less than 10 people.

He added: "There is a large number of small and micro businesses that just don't have the resources to put in bids for the Olympic contracts."

Mr Loveland said organisers have been bound by European contract legislation and working within legal rules on spending public money.

He added: "I know the organisers have also been working under very tight budgets and it's been a difficult process that I really don't envy."

The big Olympic snub

THE Olympics are coming. But what have they really done for us?

Millions of local people have paid millions of pounds in extra taxes to host the £9billion event.

Yet many have been left ticketless, contractless and without any long term prospect of benefiting thanks to numerous broken promises and failures by Olympic organisers in all their forms.

Hackney MP, Dianne Abbott, has described the low proportion of local young people employed as apprentices as 'a scandal'.

Her Labour party colleague, Sir Robin Wales, who runs the host borough at Newham, insisted this week that his authority had delivered on jobs and training. But he refused our request for an interview.

Of almost 1,500 Olympic contracts awarded to firms, less than 10 per cent went to local firms in Essex and east London. Even voluntary inclusion has seen locals snubbed with more than 40 per cent of the Olympic Flame torch bearers running through Essex being drafted in from outside the county – and abroad.

So this is your chance. If you feel snubbed, ignored or overlooked, we want to know.

Whether you are a business, a volunteer or a trainee looking for work, send your story to Olympic Snub, Yellow Advertiser, Acorn House, Great Oaks, Basildon, SS14 1AH or e-mail havering@yellowad.co.uk

Locals missing out on Torch Relay

By Charles Thomson

A TOWN council leader from Essex has spoken of her disappointment after it was announced that only one of 14 Olympic Torch Relay runners through the borough was from the area.

Runners in Castle Point hail from as far afield as Brighton, Maldon and even Beijing and the Hebei Province.

Among locals who missed out was George Beecham MBE, 81.

He has completed 14 London to Brighton races and 14 Hastings to Brighton races.

George, who lives in Tewkes Road, Canvey Island, has raised so much money for charity that he was made an MBE for services to the island.

Joan Liddiard, chairman of Canvey Island Town Council, considered him such an inspiration that she nominated him to run the torch through Hadleigh.

However, like other Castle Point candidates, he was rejected.

Mrs Liddiard said: "I am grossly disappointed. I really thought he would have been a worthy person."

"I know that some other people were put forward by other councillors and they didn't get picked either. I can't imagine that there wasn't anybody worthy from the whole borough. It is madness."

When the YA asked a London 2012 spokesman how many nominations had been received for Castle Point residents, they said the information was unavailable.

Speaking about his torchbearer nomination, Mr Beecham said: "It would have been a nice thing to go out on. I must be coming to the end of my athletic career soon."

"When I found out only one of the Castle Point runners was from Castle Point – I was gutted over that. I thought they'd have liked to keep it local."

GUTTED: George Beecham.

French firms to make banners as British companies miss out

By Peter Henn

FLAGS which will be used for the Olympic Games are being made by a French company.

Doublet was successful in its attempt to get the contract to make the Olympic banners, beating a number of British firms.

Romford MP, Andrew Rosindell, was 'appalled' by the findings.

The Conservative, who is the chairman of the Parliamentary Flags & Heraldry Committee, said: "It's something that's a concern, because we've got the case where they have been buying all these flags, but they aren't being made in Britain."

"I don't think they should be made abroad, we should be using flags made in this country."

Mr Rosindell, who has campaigned to fly the Union Flag from all public buildings, believed more people should be aware of the news.

He added: "We've got some very, very good flag manufacturers in this country, and we should have given preference to them."

"It's awful. It's the British Olympics, and we should be promoting British businesses."

Malcolm Farrow, of the Flag Institute, believed European regulations were at least partially responsible.

He explained: "If you have a contract of a certain size, bidding has to be opened up across

APPALLED: Andrew Rosindell MP.

Europe. You may not like it, but that is the law.

"British flag makers are among the best in the world, and what's happened is a great shame."

LOCOG did not make a comment, despite numerous phone calls over the course of nearly a week.

But it's not all bad news...

THE Federation of Small Businesses' London wide representative, Mathew Jaffer said, to his knowledge, most small businesses who applied for Olympic contracts had been successful.

He said: "I believe the majority of micro businesses who competed for contracts have been successful.

"You will find individual cases where businesses did not get a contract, this was largely due to insufficient legal consortia."

But Mr Jaffer did raise concerns that the work may 'come to a grinding halt' when the Olympics ends.

He said: "We are worried that work for these small business will dry up once the Games have finished."

Finishing school or looking for an alternative?

"I didn't want to stay on at school, being stuck in a classroom and surrounded by books where I'd have found it hard to express myself. Floristry allows me to be creative, practical and hands-on. When I came to the open day and they told me about floristry I just knew that's what I wanted to do. My parents are over the moon – they get to see my progress each week with the practical designs I take home. I've been getting all merits and distinctions for my work and I'd like to go on to start my own business. During my work experience I wondered how I'd feel, whether I'd still enjoy it as much but I loved it. The florist shop I worked for still ring me up now to help out when they're really busy."

16-year-old Laura Cox, achieved mainly A grades in her GCSEs and could have stayed on to sixth form to do A levels but she decided to enrol for a diploma in floristry at Capel Manor instead.

Capel Manor College is the largest land-based college in London, offering courses for those interested in the environment, animals or working with plants, trees and flowers. Our students regularly win awards and many go on to study at AS/A level leading to higher education, set up their own businesses or have fulfilling careers in the green sector.

Courses offered in east London include floristry, flower arranging and balloon artistry.

Staying on isn't about staying at school... college offers a different experience leading to higher education or employment.

TA show off helicopters to be used during Olympic Games

HUNDREDS of excited families flocked to Ilford's Territorial Army centre in Gordon Road to see helicopters that will help protect Londoners during the Olympic Games.

The TA centre opened its doors last Friday to speak to local residents and show them the helicopters that would be used to intercept and redirect small aircraft away from the regulated airspace over London during the Games.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD) said the helicopters had been put into the centre in Ilford as part of air security measures because of its proximity to Stratford.

Dad-of-two, Wilson Chowdhry, whose office is virtually next door to the TA centre, said his two girls were thrilled when they saw the helicopters.

He said: "This has been a great experience for all the local children. It was very exciting for us all to see these amazing machines - we all want to go up in one now!"

"The soldiers here have been fantastic and explained in detail everything local people wanted to know, they have been incredibly professional, yet friendly. We are all very impressed."

EXCITING: Residents meet the soldiers and admire their helicopters.

A spokesman for Redbridge Council said: "The Council has worked closely with the MoD to ensure that any risks are taken seriously. The Council would not have been able to prevent the MoD using the TA centre, and in any case would not want to hamper measures designed to keep London safe during the Games. We are satisfied that the MoD has responded to the Council's concerns, and has taken the necessary steps to ensure the TA centre can be used safely."

The MoD will be consulting with residents, the local school and care home to explain the possible impact and take account of their concerns.

Households near the TA centre will receive a leaflet from the MoD shortly explaining the plans in more detail.

Students celebrate graduation

PUPILS from Redbridge College celebrated in style after graduating from a two-year programme designed to boost their employability skills.

The career academy graduation ceremony, held at the Institute of Education in central London last Thursday, marked the end of their course.

The pupils from the college, now have access to paid internships at some of the UK's leading organisations, as well as one-to-one mentoring from top business professionals.

Career Academies UK is a not-for-profit organisation working with schools colleges in a bid to raise aspirations of 16-19 year-olds.

At the ceremony, students heard from a mixture of former career academy graduates and motivational speakers, before receiving their graduation certificates in front of 500 fellow students, parents, business mentors and teachers.

To find out more about the college, ring 020 8548 7110 / 7129 / 7431 or visit the college's Open Day on Saturday, June 23 between 10am and 2pm, in Little Heath Lane, Chadwell Heath.

Woman crashes car into shop window

AN ELDERLY woman reversed her car into a shop in the Buckhurst Hill main shopping area.

Essex Police said a woman drove into Supadance in Queens Road, Buckhurst Hill, on Saturday morning shortly after 8.30am, just before the area was packed with shoppers.

Sandy Evans, 67, was above Fenton Flooring next door when the drama unfolded.

She said: "We couldn't believe what had happened!"

A shop owner in Queens Road, who did not want to be named said: "I don't think this lady was in the right frame of mind. The car went straight through the shop window - all the wooden frames have been damaged too.

Hospice appeals

RICHARD House Children's Hospice is asking for members of the Muslim community to donate their yearly sadaqah to help fund the care of its children.

The hospice, which is based in Beckton, cares for children and young people from all over London.

Hospice bosses said many of the children come from Muslim backgrounds and the support of the Islamic community has become increasingly important.

Sadaqah is a donation all self-supporting Muslims must give to charity before the end of the month of Ramadam, which starts on July 21.

For more information call Hannah on 020 7540 0208.

THE HOSPICE is also asking people to think of a dream they want to achieve in their lifetime before they die.

Write your dream on a post-it note and place it on a dedicated board in any of the hospice's charity shops across at either - Station Parade, in Dagenham Heathway; Green Lane, Dagenham; Victoria Road, Romford, Longbridge Road, Barking, The Broadway, Elm Park; Station Road, Hornchurch, and Corbets Tey Road, Upminster.

Boys jailed for raping girl aged 11

TWO boys who repeatedly raped an 11-year-old girl over several months have been jailed.

Ibraheem Giwa, 15, of Wolsey Avenue, East Ham, was sentenced to a total of five years imprisonment. His friend - a 16-year-old from the Newham area, who cannot be named for legal reasons - was jailed for a total of 12 months for the offences dating back to 2009.

The pair were sentenced at Inner London Crown Court last Friday having previously been found guilty of rape against a child at the same court in February. Two other boys - aged 16 and 15 and from East Ham - were found not guilty of the rape.

Judge Patricia Lees lifted reporting restrictions preventing the naming of Giwa, who was the main instigator in the attacks.

The court heard how the victim was forced to endure a series of assaults by a gang, of which Giwa was alleged to be the leader despite being, at 13, its youngest member.

The first attack took place in Central Park, Beckon, in September 2009, with Giwa and another boy raping the 11-year-old.

Giwa attacked her again a week later at his home.

Another offence took place in toilets at a

McDonalds restaurant in East Ham. Other boys guarded the door to keep the youngster inside while she was raped by the 16-year-old from Newham.

After each of the attacks the boys would punch the girl to threaten her and ensure she did not tell her family or friends. She also experienced bullying on the internet with messages about the rape allegations being placed on her Facebook page.

The victim was eventually convinced by a close relative to contact police and an investigation was launched in January 2010.

Detective Sergeant Kam Sodhi, based at Stratford, said: "This has been a truly shocking case in which a young child has been subjected to the most appalling sexual abuse. What is equally shocking is the similarly young age of her attackers."

"The victim has shown immense courage throughout her ordeal, the investigation and the subsequent court case. At the time of the offences she was just 11 years old. She stood in a court in front of her attackers at the age of 13 years."

"We hope that this result at court today is welcomed by the victim and her family and that they can now move on with their lives."

It is thought another five boys were involved in sexually assaulting the victim or watching while the attacks were carried out.

Anyone with information is asked to contact DS Sodhi of Operation Sapphire on 020 7217 9863 or to remain anonymous call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

JAILED: Ibraheem Giwa was named by the judge after being identified as the main instigator in the attacks.

DELIGHT: Colin Phillips and his helpers celebrate raising more than £200,000 for Help for Heroes.

Businessman helps to collect £200,000 for Help for Heroes

A BUSINESSMAN has raised more than £200,000 for Help for Heroes collecting money outside Wembley Stadium on matchdays.

Colin Phillips, from Canning Town, has spent the last three years dedicating his spare time to raising money for the charity. He has been to Wembley City 34 times and the best day collecting so far was Millwall versus Swindon in a play-off game where he managed to raise £9,000.

With the help of Wembley City, Bluefin Insurance and a large group of voluntary helpers, Colin and his team gather on the raised pedways in Olympic Way asking for donations for the Help for Heroes wristbands.

His inspiration came from visiting a Help for Heroes roadshow. He said: "I went along to a roadshow H4H was holding about three years ago and someone in the audience happened to mention what football had done for H4H to which Bryn Parry OBE, co-founder of Help for Heroes replied 'in a word nothing'. That was when I thought about trying to resolve the issue."

He has gone on to be a regular fixture in Wembley and his work to help injured service personnel is greatly valued by Help for Heroes.

Bryn said: "We appealed to the public to get out there and 'do your bit' - Colin did just that, along with hundreds of thousands of decent people who responded and the charity has become a phenomenon raising millions to provide facilities and services that help improve the recovery of those injured on duty."

Colin currently works for a skip hire company based in east London. He has a wife, a son and two daughters, who have all helped collect.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category

All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection

The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

Muhammad is Britain's golden boy

Taekwondo

A TAEKWONDO player from Walthamstow won Great Britain's first gold medal of the European Taekwondo Championships in Manchester.

Lutalo Muhammad, 20, marked his European debut with a stunning 13-4 final win over world number nine, Augustin Bata, in the -87kg weight division.

Muhammad broke down in tears and hugged coach Joseph Salim after a roller-coaster tournament.

He successfully defeated Spain's two-time European champion, Jon Garcia Agudo, and came back from 10-1 down to win 12-11 on the golden point in his quarter-final match against Croatian Nikola Bojo.

Muhammad, who won a total of five fights, belied his championship experience with a 5-4 victory against Turkey's Ali Sari in the semifinal with the last kick of the contest.

He said: "I'm elated with the result as I've been training so hard for this and have visualised this moment for a long time. The morale on Team GB is great at the moment as we had our most successful European performance."

Muhammad dedicated the win to his father Wayne, who trained him since he was three-years-old.

"I am so grateful for the support and dedication from my Dad. He has helped me so much and now I hope to inspire other budding athletes from East London."

The victory puts Muhammad in a strong position for team selection when the GB Olympic squad is named late this month.

"I can only do my job which is performing well on the mat," he added. "I think I have done my job. I am not on the selection panel, I will leave that up to them."

GOLD MEDAL: Lutalo Muhammad.

WGEL athletes earn titles in universities championships

Athletics

ATHLETES from Woodford Green Athletics Club with Essex Ladies representing their universities were given the chance to compete in London's 2012 Olympic Stadium at the weekend.

The stadium hosted the British Universities Championship (BUCS) as the official test event for the main stadium, and despite the very cold conditions over the Bank Holiday weekend, there were good early season performances, including BUCS titles for Kitty Eleyae and Stephanie Gaynor.

There was also good marks from Mark Dry, Sam Watts, Tara Bird, Tracey

Duncan and others as they competed in high quality UKA invitation races run in conjunction with the BUCS programme.

Eleyae's BUCS title came in the long jump where in the final round she went over 6m for the first time to record a winning leap of 6.11m.

She had earlier placed fifth in the 100m final with 12.35 seconds after qualifying with 12.21 secs.

Gaynor took the women's 100m hurdles title with 13.73 secs, having qualified with a marginally faster 13.72 secs.

First year senior Watts was one of two winning Woodford athletes in the invitation UKA races.

In cold conditions on Sunday evening he won over 200m recording 21.16 secs. The other winner was Dry who took the hammer with 70.32m. In the invitation 800m Bird placed second with 2m03.46 secs, and also placing second was Duncan in the 400m hurdles with 59.07 secs.

WINNING LEAP: Kitty Eleyae.

O's finish frustrating season on a positive note

Leyton Orient

By Rowland Lyons at the Matchroom Stadium

LEYTON ORIENT ended the season on a high with a comfortable 2-1 victory over relegated Rochdale on Saturday in League One.

Dean Cox and Moses Odubajo were on target before the break, before Reece Gray managed a late consolation for the bottom club.

With League One safety already assured, boss Russell Slade gave youth a chance and Obubajo made his debut. Billy Lobjoit and Afolabi Obafemi started on the bench and both made late, cameo appearances.

But, it was the 'old guard' that started the Hornets demise when Cox's 32nd minute drive was deflected by Stephen Darby and wickedly bounced over the stranded Matty Edwards.

Matthew Spring and Kevin Lisbie then went close, before 'tomorrow's star' - 19-year-old Obubajo - ran half the length of the pitch before unleashing a terrific 41st minute drive that, despite flying into the middle of the goal, beat Edwards all ends up.

Buoyed by their two-goal advantage top scorer Lisbie and Odubajo went close to extending the O's lead early in the second-half as the O's dominated.

With the game increasingly adopting an end-of-season air, Rochdale gained a foothold on 75 minutes, when Syam Ben Youseff could only help on former O's loanee, Nicky Adams's cross, and smart footwork from Gray saw the winger slot past a stranded Jamie Jones.

It would have summed up the O's luck over the season had Jean-Louis Akpa Akpro managed to get a touch by sticking out a leg to finish off a late Adams cross, but the O's finished strongly with Dean Leacock twice going close, before late sub Lobjoit was agonisingly close from hitting his first-ever league goal, but could only hit the side-netting from Cox's centre.

Talisman Cox said: "The fans were terrific today - considering what has gone on this year. The lads will admit, we haven't been at our best, but the fans came out in force today. The lap of honour was a credit to them; they clapped us all the way around."

Cox admitted: "There is going to be another rebuild in the close season. I am pretty sure the gaffer will be changing things around a little bit. There will be players coming in and going out. All the youngsters who came in today did very well. Moses did incredibly well - I just hope the fans haven't voted for 'goal of the season' yet! I think that goal would top every single one - it was a 'wonder strike'.

A relieved Slade admitted: "I thought we thoroughly deserved to win the football match today. I thought we created numerous opportunities; the highlight, of course, was the goal from Moses - it was fantastic. I put on a couple of the young players late on in the game and it's always good to see them coming through.

"There is lots of work to be done over the close season. It's inevitable there will be bodies in and going out. We will be looking at all areas. It's going to be a busy close-season."

West Ham United

Hammers secure play-off final spot

WEST Ham United are 90 minutes away from an immediate return to the Premiership after completing their 5-0 aggregate victory over Cardiff City in the Championship play-off semi-final on Monday.

Goals from Kevin Nolan, Ricardo Vaz Te and Nicky Maynard banished any thoughts that Irons' poor home form this season in the league would cost them dear in the play-offs.

But following their 2-0 win last week, it sets up a tie between Birmingham City or Blackpool who were due to play on Wednesday night.

Boss Sam Allardyce said: "It's a big pressure for us and whoever we get will probably be favourites again.

"But what a fantastic stage to go and play on. Hopefully the players can deliver yet another outstanding performance."

Nolan settled any pre-match jitters with the first goal on 15 minutes, heading in after Carlton Cole's header was blocked on the line from Matt Taylor's corner.

The Irons doubled their lead five minutes before the interval with a superb finish from Vaz Te, who beat Stephen McPhail before rifling a shot past Bluebirds keeper David Marshall.

But an even better finish rounded off a great afternoon at Upton Park, substitute Nicky Maynard arrowing a great strike past Marshall into the top corner from Henri Lansbury's through ball.

The only negative for Allardyce was a shoulder injury to first leg two-goal hero Jack Collinson.

Allardyce added: "I wouldn't rule him out of the final straight away."

Dagenham & Redbridge

Biggest win for the season for Daggers

DAGENHAM & Redbridge rounded out their season in style with their biggest win of the season in League Two on Saturday.

The Daggers brushed aside Bristol Rovers with a 4-0 win as they ended a difficult season, which saw them battle against relegation, on a high note.

A hat-trick from Brian Woodall and Danny Green's first goal of the season gave plenty of cheer for Daggers' supporters.

Boss John Still said: "In the last 10 games we've seen the real Dagenham.

"Having fit players available has made a real difference. In this game, we had players on the bench who could come on and change the game - we've not had that for the best part of the season."

It looked bleak for Daggers when they lost 1-0 at home to fellow strugglers Northampton Town in March, but then went on a run of eight unbeaten games which saw them lift themselves off the bottom and into safety, finishing in 19th.

Still added: "In the last 10 games we've looked like one of the best sides in the league.

"I'm pleased for Brian (Woodall) and lots of the players. They would have been disappointed with how the season has gone, but it's been a fantastic finish.

"We're a small club, but a decent side. We've got a young team, but they've got some good experience this season and the age of these players gives me lots of hope for the future.

"Our biggest problem is keeping hold of them."
